And Likewise Better Yet.

Plemping's Graphic—Maysville's new daily, THE PUBLIC LEDGER, made its appearance Monday. It is edited by Thomas A. Davis, and is backed by the most prominent Republicans of Mason county. It is clean and chock full of news, and we predict for it the success it deserves.

Remarkable Literary Announcement.

Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter" and Longfellow's "Evangeline," profusely and finely illustrated, both for only 10 cents, postpaid, printed from large (brevier) type, on fine super-calendered book paper, and specimen pages free to anyone, is the latest announcement of John B. Alden, publisher, 57 Rose street, New York. One would suppose they would cost by the million, each work being a famous author's most famous production.

Anti-Maysvillian Abroad.

George M. Bell came home a few days ago. He has been on quite an extensive tour, being a member of Uncle Sam's Navy. He was on the war-ship San Francisco, and witnessed the recent "ractions" at Valparaiso, Chili. After the battle between the Chilians was over, Mr. Bell and some comrades went ashore for a visit to the battlefields, and gathered many relics. But before returning to the ship they were not only stripped of the relics, but the natives robbed them of all they had besides. He describes the barbarities practiced by the Chilean soldiers, the wounded of both sides being army being called to death by the victors. Mr. Bell lives in the Sixth Ward, but will move to Lexington Monday to engage in business.

IS IN THE LOUISVILLE JAIL.

Hugh Mulholland, the Late Postmaster at Paducah.

THE TESTIMONY DENIED HIM.

The Lawyers for the Defense Pronounce the Conviction an Outrage.

Hugh Mulholland, whose conviction at Paducah was mentioned in yesterday's LEADER, is confined in the Jefferson County Jail, Louisville.

Mr. Mulholland was found guilty of having abstracted $287.29 from a registered letter while Postmaster at Paducah.

The prisoner, says THE Times, was taken to the County Jail in a hack, to remain until the motion for a new trial, and that it was a surprise to even Mulholland's most bitter political enemies, to whose efforts the prosecution was due. Evidence going to show that Mulholland was not guilty was not admitted for technical reasons, he claimed.

Mr. Wilson further stated that one of the female clerks in the Postoffice testified that the letter which the Postmaster was accused of having rifled was signed for by him, given to her intact, and placed by her in the money drawer. She members distinctly having handled the letter for the reason that the peculiar handwriting and faulty spelling were commented on by the clerks, in her presence.

Last December one of the female clerks discovered A. H. King, a Postal Clerk, running between Paducah and Paris, in the act of stealing a $90 gold piece from the drawer in which the registered letters, money and valuables were kept. When he saw that he was discovered he refused the money and left the office. He had for months been making the Paducah Postoffice his headquarters, and had had free access to the drawer where the registered letters were kept.

In Paris, Tenn., King met Tom Williamson, a Postal Clerk, two days after the discovery of his crookedness, and told him that he was going South, and that the Postoffice Inspector was about to investigate the affairs of the Paducah Postoffice; that he had taken the registered package which Postmaster Mulholland was accused of having appropriated, and that he was in fear of being arrested. A few hours after making his confession King committed suicide.

At the trial the defense had Williamson testify to the confession made by King, and also had Clarence Parker, another leading railroad official, ready to testify as to Williamson's veracity and general good character. Judge Barr, however, refused to admit either of these witnesses, on the ground that King's confession was not under oath, and that it was not a dying statement.

The defense relied chiefly upon this evidence to make out their case. The discovery on the prisoner's side are confident of securing a new trial. What the grounds will be they do not at present care to say. All these statements are made by Mulholland's friends and attorneys.

The application for a new trial is refused, an effort will be made by Mulholland's friends to induce the President to grant a pardon. The ex-Postmaster has a legion of influential friends at his back, among them Daniel W. O. Bradley, Judge George Denney, Colonel John Poland, Congressman John Wilson, ex-Congressman Frank Finley, John W. Lewis, and all the Republican leaders of prominence in the State. In Louisville, Mayor Tyler, Hon. Asher G. Garth and other prominent citizens are ready and willing to attach their names to the petition, and it is not likely that the President will disregard the wishes of such an array of names.

Recent Washington Fire Company.

Alba Heywood and his peerless company will appear at Washington, Kentucky May 6th, which occasion will be for the benefit of the Washington Fire Company. This will be an opportunity for our citizens to do something towards assisting the Fire Company, which is always willing to assist them when a fire breaks out.

EDITOR CHARLEY MOORE'S CRAZY YAWP.

He Writes in "The Courier-Journal," and is as Delusional and Delirious as Ever.

IN JAIL, PARIS, KY., April 6th, 1892.

Editor Courier-Journal: I am in jail in Paris, Ky. I see that a newspaper, The Georgetown Enterprise, (Democratic), is in the kindness of the editor's heart, asking that the Governor may pardon me. I do not believe in gubernatorial pardons, unless in such cases as I am in jail. I am not a criminal, and I do not ask for any pardon for myself, and will not have it, if it is to commit me to any presumptive or implied apology for anything I have said, or any sort of an implication that I agree not to say similar things in the future.

Without knowing anything about the facts in the case, you have joined in the popular clamor against me, and if Jesus Christ were to come to Kentucky to-morrow you would join in the crowd that would yell "crucify him." I am going to do the best I can for the founder of the Christian Church, and the jail in which I am shut is within two hundred feet of the place in a big creek where he was baptized. The church "apostrophe," where he organized the Christian Church, is within ten miles of where I am. I spent some of the very flower of my life preaching the gospel. I never took a cent for it, and paid out my money to help others to do it. I have preached, without pay, in the church which was as an idol in the eyes of Nazareth. "I am not mad, most noble Preacher; I speak the words of truth and soberness." I am not working the infinitely racket nor posing as a martyr.
